

Dedication: AndY from the Acorn Café made a request for a poem on contentment.

Content with Love

*One thought of my home
One moment to call my own
One instance with out pain
One second I can see*

*Two blinks of my eyes
Two steps and I have started
Two breaths keep me going
Two seconds and I am free*

*Three words so very simple
Three seconds to delegate
Three tears of joy for us now
Three seconds and we are free.*

*Four years, since that question
Three babies and another on the way
Four futures have stemmed from our promise
These four years of you and me.*
