

Dedication: Severe Weather Eddie from the Acorn Café requested a poem on snow.

Snowflake

*A spill of stars across the sky
The moon so bright and up so high tiny tears fall from them all
No two the same as they fall*

*Catch one hopefully on your tongue
Dress warm so you don't end up numb
A single speck of sparkling white
Adds to the blanket that covers this night*
