

Woman and the Wolf

Together they silently sit,
Right next to life's raging waters.
Ready to take on all that lies ahead.
Knowing only that love is what matters.

Not ever having to wonder or worry about what is in the other's hearts.
Just knowing that forever they will be together, sharing in each other's hearts.

They know in this moment of silence. As they see their reflections in the lake.
To feel love so strong in their hearts.
Knowing that love they will never forsake.
