

My Roo

To share my life so openly, you've taken many blows
The helping of so many souls, you know the path I chose
The reading of the deeds I'd done had closed so many doors
My words to calm those feelings torn had often started wars

I know I do not give to you the time that you may need
And yet you still protect me so, supporting all my deeds
This Wolf has built his life around a Kangaroo, his mate
Forever one within his heart, his life with you so great

We know that life will try us so. Together we shall face
The problems of our world so real. For this you know we'll brace
A Roo and Wolf can share the time and family we have made
This Wolf knows that the two are one; for this I know you've prayed

I'll do my best to calm you now, with knowledge that our time
Upon this earth together scant-together we shall climb.
